ART315123 Visual Art & ART315214 Art Studio Practice

Key Requirement

A small number of clear photos showing the exhibition as displayed, including the student's TASC ID poster, provided as a single file named with the student's TASC ID.

Why are exhibition photos required?

Exhibition photos provide a record of the exhibition as displayed at the submission deadline and will contribute to:

- assessment integrity
- marking discussions
- Assessment Panel processes
- review of integrity concerns where required.

Photos are not used to assess the quality of the artwork.

What photos are required?

Provide a small number of photos that clearly show:

- the exhibition as displayed
- all exhibited work
- the student's TASC ID poster.

Photos do not need to be professionally taken.

The intention is to provide a practical record of the exhibition, not a comprehensive photo archive.

Does the TASC ID poster need to be visible?

Yes.

The student's TASC ID poster must be visible in the photos. This will typically include an overall photo of the exhibition with the poster visible and a closer photo showing the poster more clearly.

- ART315214 Art Studio Practice ● yellow poster

TASC provides these posters to schools.

Can identifying information appear in the photos?

No.

Photos should not contain identifying information other than the student's TASC ID poster.

Examples include:

- student names
- photos of the student
- labels containing student names.

When should photos be taken?

Photos should be taken once the exhibition is complete and installed.

Students should allow sufficient time for photos to be taken and provided to their teacher before the school's submission deadline to TASC.

The photos must show the final version of the exhibition being submitted for external assessment.

Who is responsible for taking the photos?

Students are expected to photograph their completed exhibition and provide the file(s) to their teacher.

Schools may determine alternative arrangements where appropriate.

How should photos be provided?

Only one file can be uploaded to TASC for each student.

If multiple photos are taken, they should be combined into a single file before being provided to the teacher.

Acceptable formats include:

- PDF
- Word document
- ZIP file
- a single image file.

How should the file be named?

Files must include the student's TASC ID at the start of the file name.

The TASC ID may be used on its own or combined with the course code or course name.

Examples:

- 24D12345.zip
- 24D12345.jpg
- 24D12345_ART315123.pdf
- 24D12345_Art Studio Practice.pdf

Student names must not be included in the file name.

Who uploads the file to TASC?

Schools are responsible for uploading files to TASC via TRACS as part of the existing submission verification process.

Any authorised school staff member may complete the upload.
